Description
A two-day course for beginners with digital SLR cameras only. Not suitable for SLR film, point and shoot or hybrid cameras. If you are unsure whether your camera is suitable please e-mail swtbookings@sussexwt.org.uk before booking.

What we’ll do
The aim on all these courses is for the student to take control of their camera and fully master the technical and artistic aspects of photography as well as fully understanding and adopting a sympathetic approach to wildlife.

The tutor
David Plummer is a Sussex based freelance wildlife photographer. He writes many illustrated magazine articles for both the wildlife and photographic press. He also contributes to many books and publications and gives many lectures. He shoots for both publication and stock and is represented by Papilio photographic agency. As well teaching nature photography courses for Sussex Wildlife Trust and WWT he offers many other specialist courses throughout the year. David also has a fascination with badgers and runs many courses and events on badger watching, biology and photography.

Suitability and other info
This course is designed primarily for adults; participants aged 14 to 16 years must be accompanied by an adult.
